

Archangelo

1960

*Hail Day, whereon the One in Three
First formed the earth by sure decree
The day its Maker rose again
And vanquished death and burst our chain.*

The 1960

Archangelo

Jersey City, New Jersey

Foreword

Everything made by God bears the stamp of its maker, and testifies to the existence of the Creator.

We see a reflection of God's wisdom in the orderly movement of the planets and the errorless instinct of bird and beast. We admire His beauty which is reflected in the colors of dawn and sunset, and we reverence His ineffable purity in the light of day and the crystal of snow.

Whether we gaze in awe at the snow-capped mountains, the beauty of the heavens or the restless ocean, or whether we pause to consider the lilies of the field, God is the supreme artist of the universe, whose perfection of art is at once the inspiration and despair of those who try to reproduce a fraction of its beauty and incredible variety.

The constant theme of the psalmist is that of the glory of God, signified by, and shining out from the material world. In this age when so many under the name of science "read the book of nature and deny that the book had an author" we echo the words of the inspired writer calling on all creation to bless and glorify God.

"All ye works of the Lord, bless the Lord
Praise and exalt Him above all forever."

Pope John XXIII

Venerable Elizabeth Bayley Seton

Born in New York City, 1774

Foundress of the Sisters of Charity in the United States, 1807

Originator of Parochial School System in America

Died, January 4, 1817

Declared Venerable by Pope John XXIII, December 18, 1959

"She blazed a trail of holiness in the wilderness that was America, and proved to the world at large that sanctity of life can be an American product. In fine, she symbolizes the highest aspirations of American Catholicism."

DEDICATION

To Mary Immaculate, you who are the inspiration, the hope, and the ideal of every true Michaelian, we dedicate our Archangelo, confident that you will note, not its defects, but the love that accompanies it.

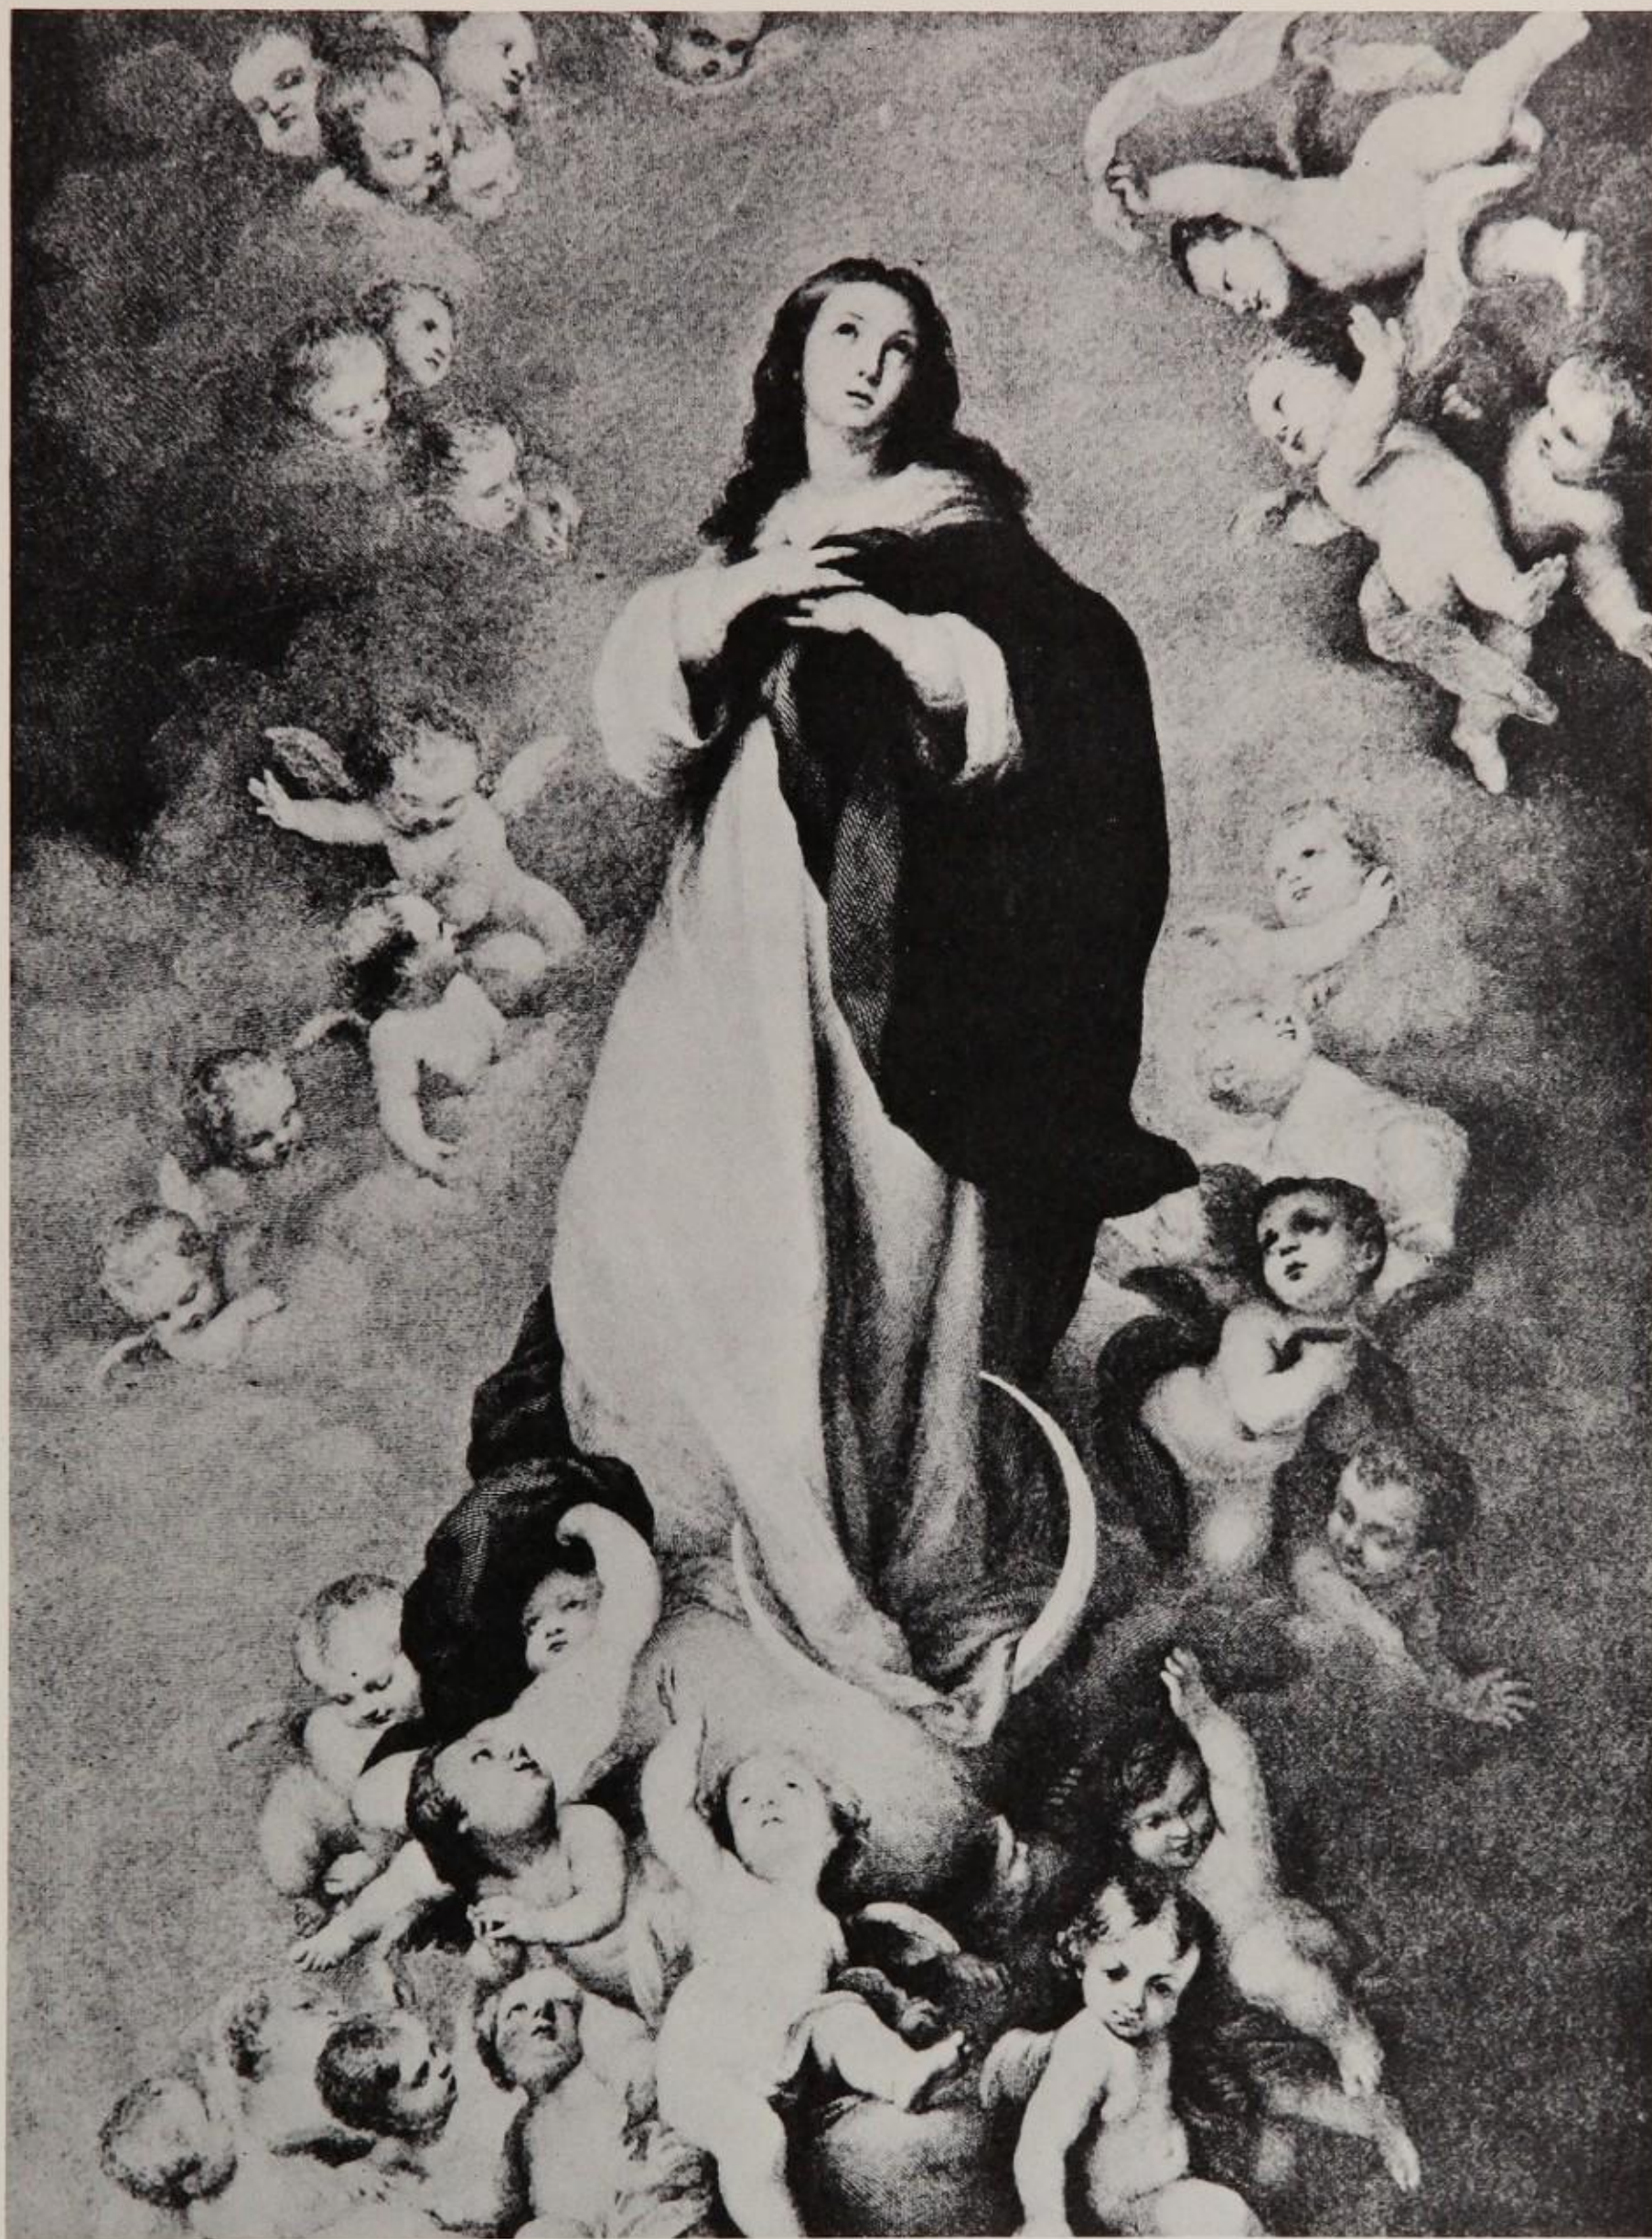

You are the masterpiece of God's creation, "our tainted nature's solitary boast." During the desolate winter that followed the fall of our first parents, all men were born in a sin-darkened world. Then on the horizon appeared the glory of your Immaculate Conception, and the dawn of the day of promise.

Fittingly does the Church apply to you the words of Proverbs,

"I was set up from eternity
And of old before the earth was made . . .
He had not yet made the earth
Nor the rivers nor the poles of the world.
When He prepared the heavens I was there
I was with Him forming all things"

You were there as God's cooperator when He remade the world after it had been shattered by the sin of Adam. It was your acceptance of Gabriel's message that, humanly speaking made the Incarnation possible.

We honor you as our queen and we love you as our mother. But since no words of ours can adequately praise you, we wish to repeat the tribute of one of your most devoted sons, Father Daniel S. Lord, "Your face glorious with the white light of purity is still the best-loved face in all the world. Your eyes are the clear clean eyes that were blessed with the vision of God's Incarnate Son. Youth will not be lost as long as it has Mary, Virgin and Mother, and it will never lose that vision while the Church lasts."

Immaculate Conception

SHRINE OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

From the time when Columbus approached these shores in the Santa Maria, the history of our country has been a recital of deeds undertaken in honor of the Mother of God. The Spanish who explored from Florida to California, made their camp settlements read like a litany of titles of the Blessed Virgin. Marquette who explored the northern half of the Mississippi had his own name for it. He called it the river of the Immaculate Conception.

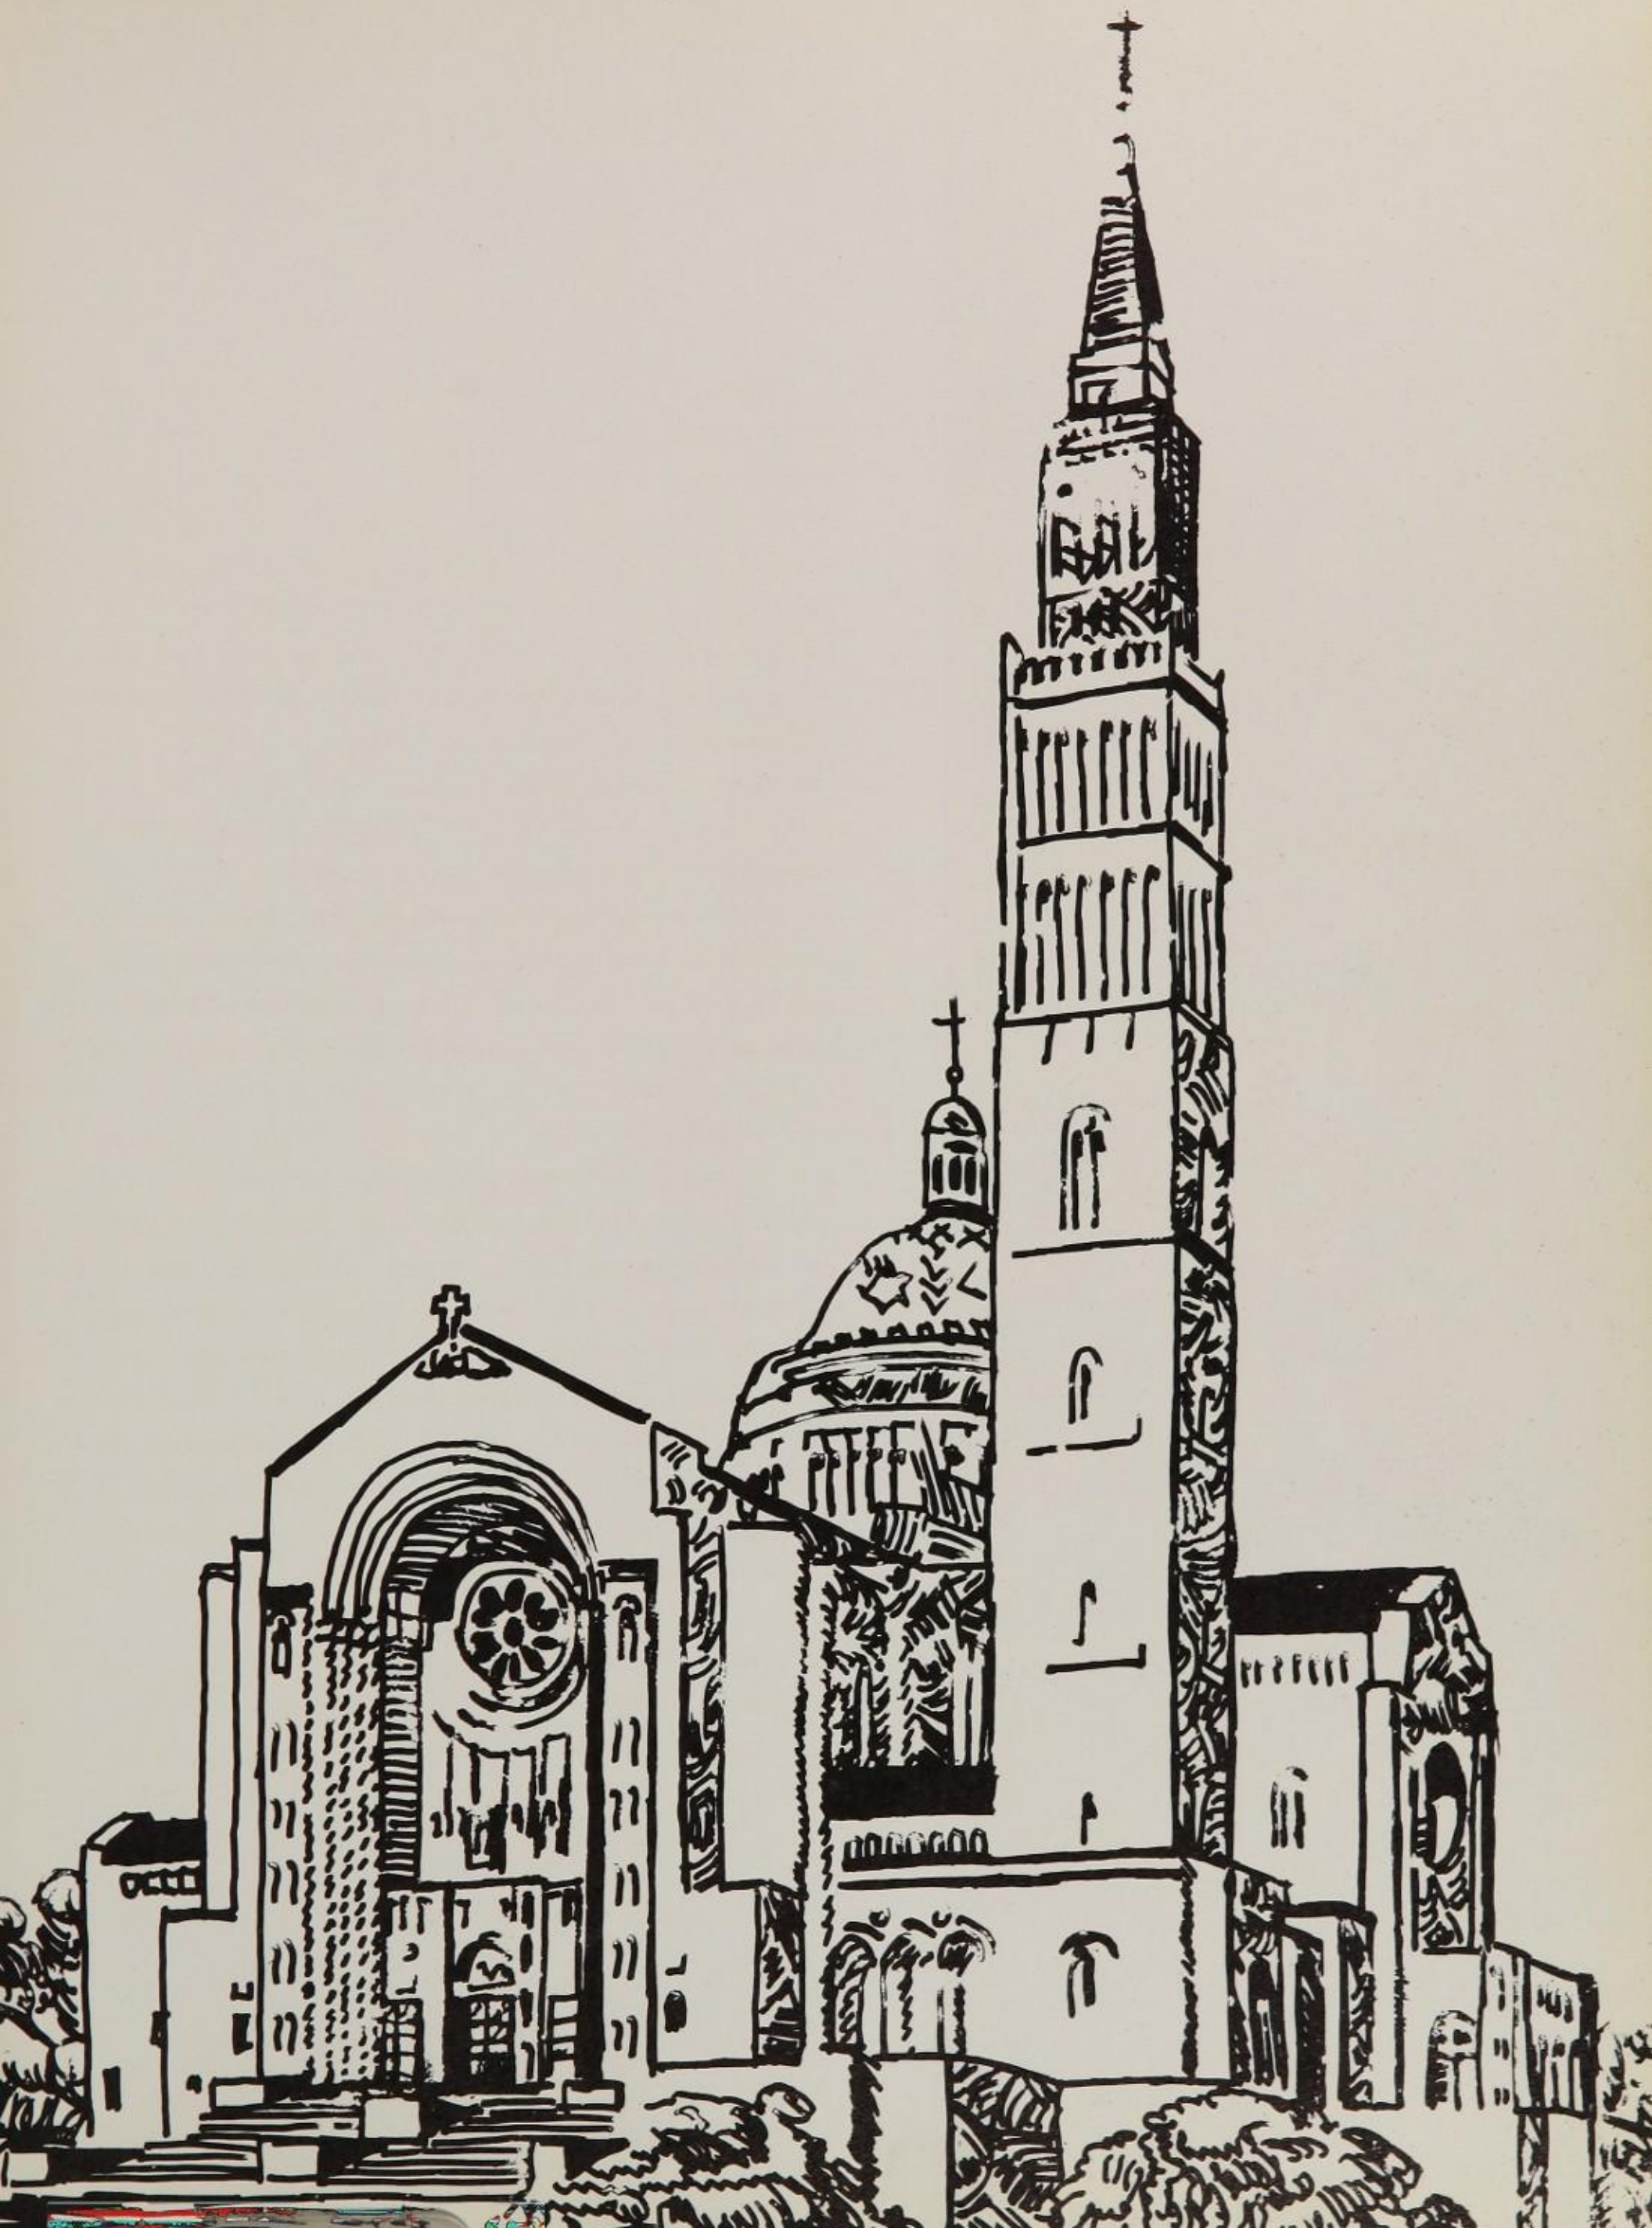

Spanish Franciscans and Jesuits in the South and French Jesuits in the North, carried the name of Mary throughout the length and breadth of the land.

It is not surprising therefore, that we should come to regard Mary the Mother of God as peculiarly ours, or that Bishop John Carroll of Baltimore, first American bishop, should dedicate our land to the Immaculate Mother of God.

In 1846 the Sixth Provincial Council, meeting at Baltimore, humbly petitioned the Pope to give us as our national patroness, the Blessed Virgin conceived without sin. The dogma of the Immaculate Conception had not yet been pronounced, but to the honor of the American hierarchy and people, they believed in it and wanted to tell the whole world of their belief.

To complete the crown of Mary Immaculate as patroness of America, there still remained the task of building a national shrine which would be an outward symbol of love and a place of pilgrimage where honor might be paid to her.

Today one of the most splendid shrines in the world has been erected, the gift of the people of America. When the magnificent interior has been completed, the shrine will be unique not only in America but in Christendom.

FACULTY

We are all familiar with the scripture's frequent reference to the sower and the seed and of its general application to our spiritual lives.

There is for us however a particular application of the parable. School days are in a special way the days of planting, and our characters are the soil in which the good seed is being planted. Our faculty members, priests, sisters and lay teachers are God's helpers in the task of sowing the seed. This is true not only in religion classes but in all the religious influences which surround us in our school life.

In the parable we read of many unproductive lives, those who rejected grace, those without depth of character and who believed only for a time, and finally those who were choked with the pleasures and cares of this world.

We trust that we will not fail like these, but that we shall, like so many of our graduates whose lives have been fruitful, work in a spirit of faith and dedication, that the good seed in us may produce a hundred fold.

Rt. Rev. Leroy McWilliams
Religion IV

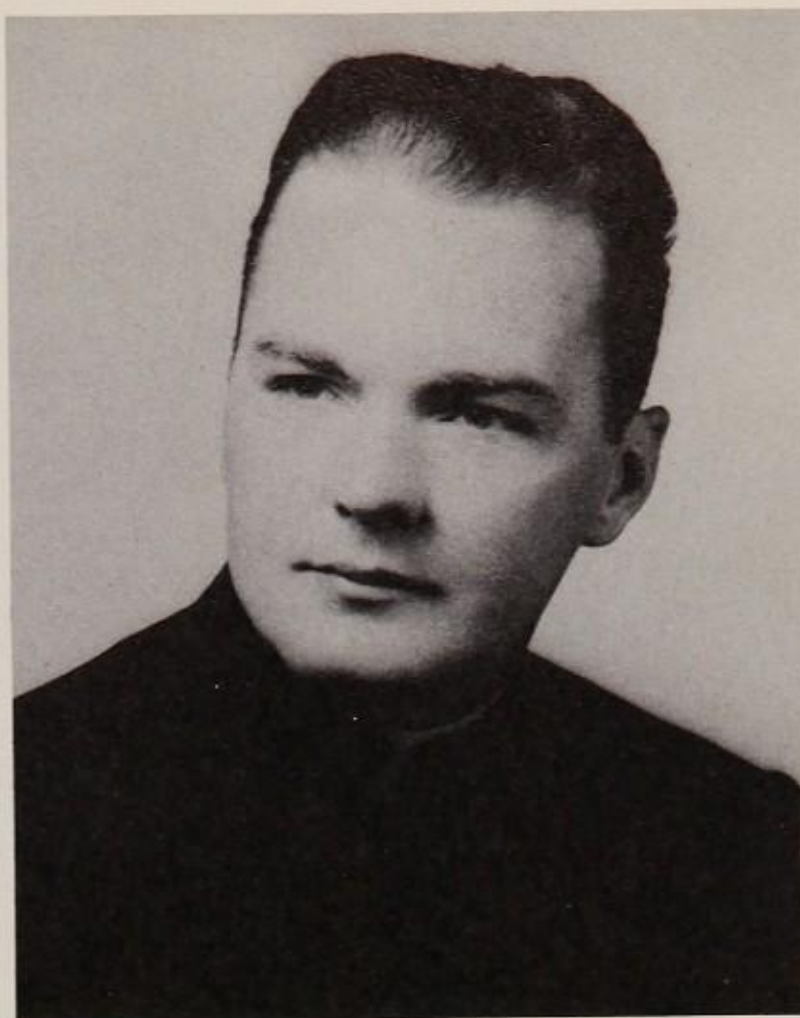

Monsignor McWilliams is an outstanding educator and a recognized authority in the field of charitable and social work. In every field into which his priestly work has taken him, he has revealed zeal, sound judgment and consideration for all who have been associated with him.

We of course know him best as pastor, teacher and friend. We will always be grateful for his solicitude for our spiritual and intellectual welfare. His example, better than any event in our school days, has made clear to us the true meaning of Christian living. It has provided us with a blue print, which will enable us to live in the world as true Christians and Michaelians.

Rev. R. Waldron
Religion II

St. Michael's is indeed fortunate to have on its faculty three such fine priests as Father Kelly, Father Waldron, and Father Fitzgerald. Not only do they give us sound instruction in religion but they are ready to listen sympathetically to our problems and help us to overcome our difficulties.

Sister Maria Thais
Principal

"The principal is the architect of a school." This of course does not refer to the school in a material sense, but rather to its spirit and all that it stands for. To an immeasurable extent the school reflects the ideas of the principal.

For six years Sister Thais has worked to produce a school reflecting her ideals, blending in her concept the different personalities and potentialities of the students.

To her therefore we extend our gratitude and that of all Michaelians for everything she has done and achieved for our Alma Mater.

S E N I O R S

The material universe is God's work of art and those who view it with a reverent eye know that God is never far away. They see Him "in the flowing of a tree," and hear Him as "He walks on the wings of the wind." He is their companion and fellow traveler as they walk the road of life, and even more wonderful still, He is the very way itself. Alice Meynell has expressed it thus:

*"Thou art the way
Hadst Thou been nothing but the goal,
I cannot say
If thou hadst ever met my soul

I cannot see —
I, child of process — if there lies
An end for me
Full of repose, full of replies.

I'll not reproach
The road that winds, my feet that err.
Access approach
Art Thou, Time, Way and Wayfarer"*

St. Catherine of Siena has stated the same idea more briefly but ecstatically, "All the way to heaven, is heaven for He said, 'I am the Way.'"

The scriptures have many references to life as a journey, but none were encouraging and inspiring than this identification of the road with Christ.

Much as we might desire it, we cannot predict that we are going to journey through life without shadow or trial. Yet we know that if we follow Him who is our way, He will infallibly lead us to our heavenly home.

Our Lady of the Way

*There are so many roadways
Lacing the lovely world,
So many bugles playing,
So many flags unfurled,*

*I took no heed of bearings
Nor knew the east from west;
And, if a path were pleasant,
I thought it was the best*

*But my Beloved saw me
(He watches day and night)
He asked a gracious Lady
To set my steps aright.*

*She set me on the highway
That winds to Paradise
And guards me with her mantle
And the love of her pure eyes.*

*Now praised be God who sent her,
When I was all astray,
And praised be she, my Mother,
Our Lady of the Way.*

Paula Kurth

Young people everywhere are inclined to think that the world does not have a proper appreciation of them. To convince them that this is not a universal attitude, we refer them to the Holy Father's address to a hundred thousand young Catholic Action members gathered in St. Peter's Square on the anniversary of the founding of the organization.

In a note of ringing optimism he expressed the wish that those who fear for the fate of the Church and predict impossible sunsets, could be present to contemplate the superb spectacle of the youth assembled before him.

Reminding them that winter was just behind them, and before them a brilliant summer, he urged them to live steadfastly the spring which God was about to grant to the Church and the world. Jubilantly he addressed them,

"Look around you, oh youth, spring of humanity, spring of life! Make our hopes yours and tell everyone that we are in the spring of history. May God grant that it will be one of the most beautiful springs man has ever experienced."

To our underclassmen, we express the hope that the Holy Father's aspirations will be fully realized in them.

A C T I V I T I E S

Our club activities are many and varied. Some of these like the Service Club, Mission Club and Red Cross Club are for the benefit of others and it is easy for us to see God in such service to our neighbor.

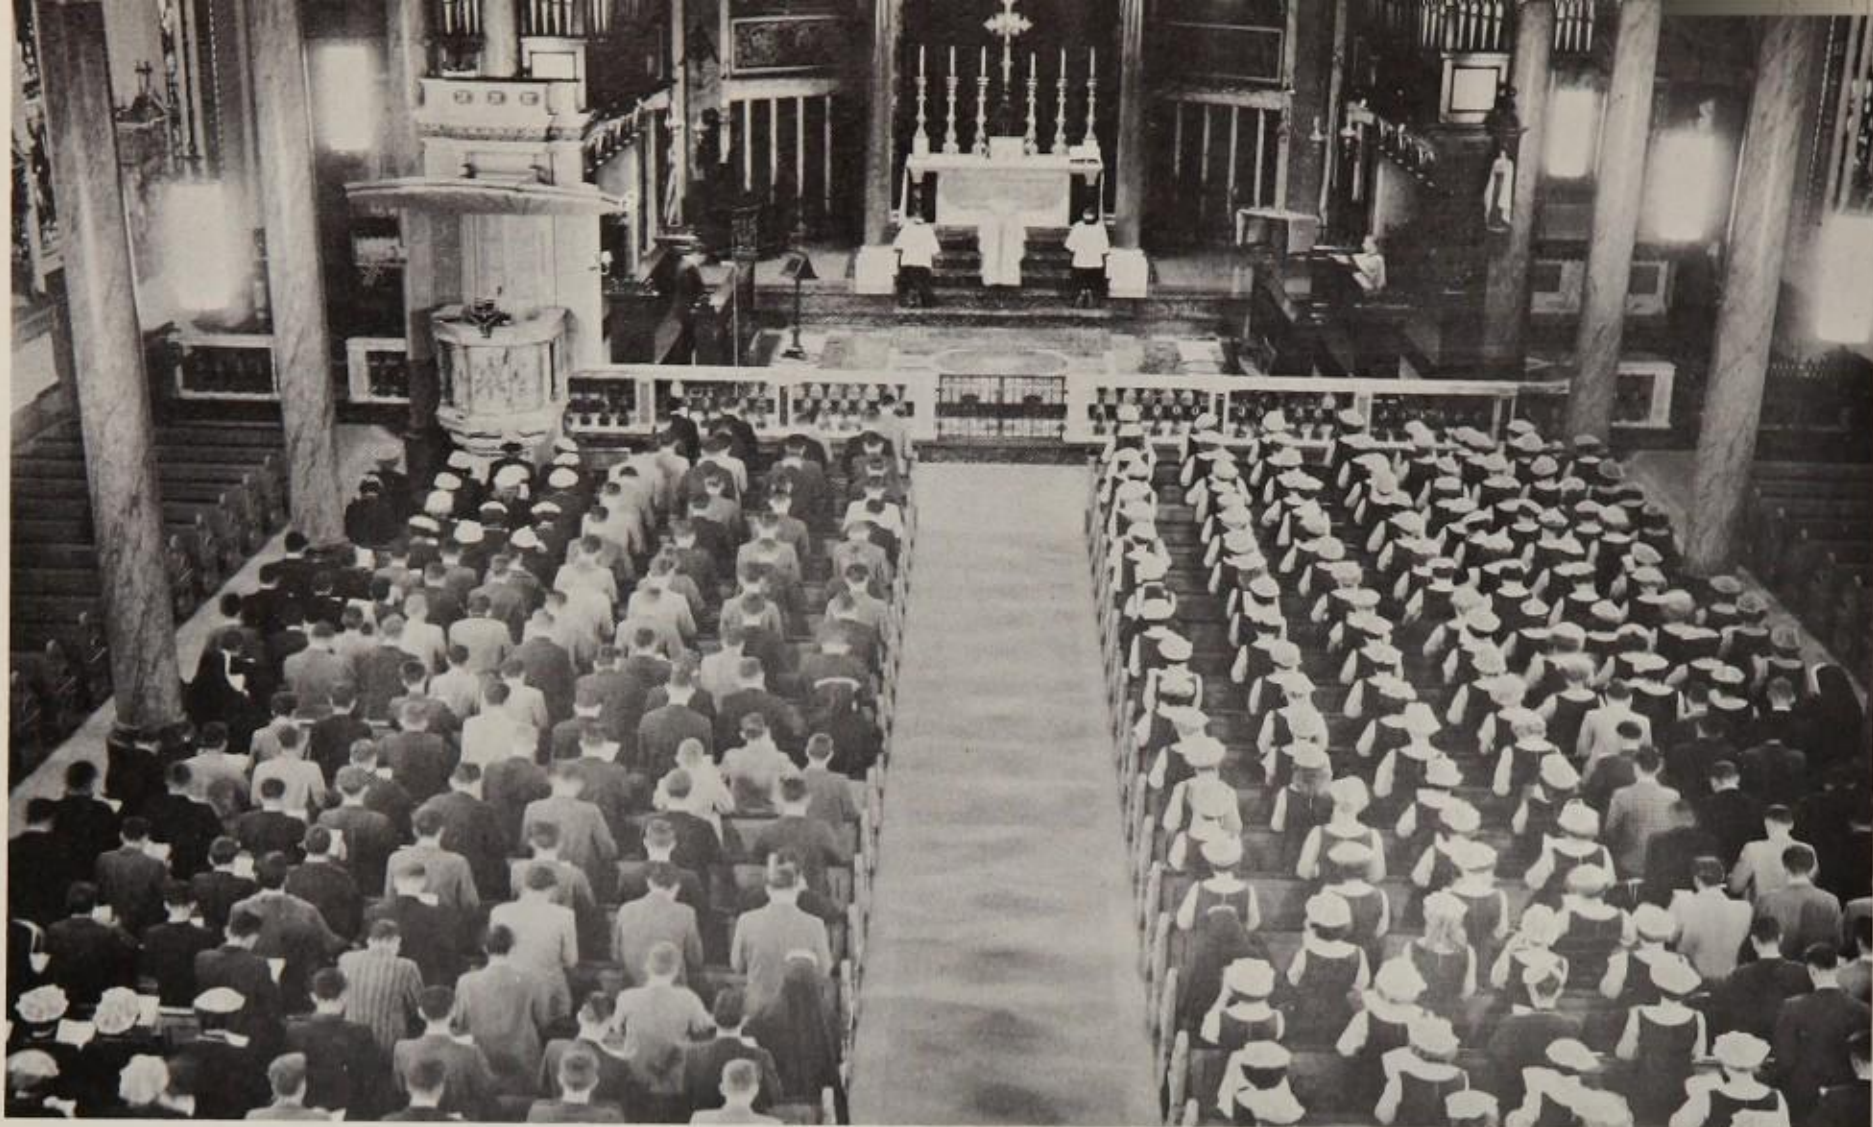

Science groups like the Biology Club bring us into contact with the works of God in nature and deepens our awareness of the wisdom and power of the Creator. Even the study of a single flower can often cause "Thoughts that do lie too deep for tears."

Our Lord recommended that we should "consider the lilies of the field," and thereby learn of God's watchful providence. Father Tabb gazed on them and was reminded of Mary, "the fairest flower of paradise." Happy will we be if we too can bridge the distance between earth and heaven.

*In all his glory, Solomon
Was never so arrayed;
Yet far more beautiful is one —
A mother and a maid —
Whose loveliness and lowliness
God stooped from highest heaven to bless.*

John Bannister Tabb

The opening Mass of the school year attended by the entire student body.

Opening Mass

On September 12th the opening Mass to invoke God's blessing on the School years was celebrated by Monsignor McWilliams. The faculty and entire student body were present to unite their intention to that of the celebrant. Practically all the students approached the altar rail to receive in the Holy Eucharist the spiritual strength necessary for the daily combat.

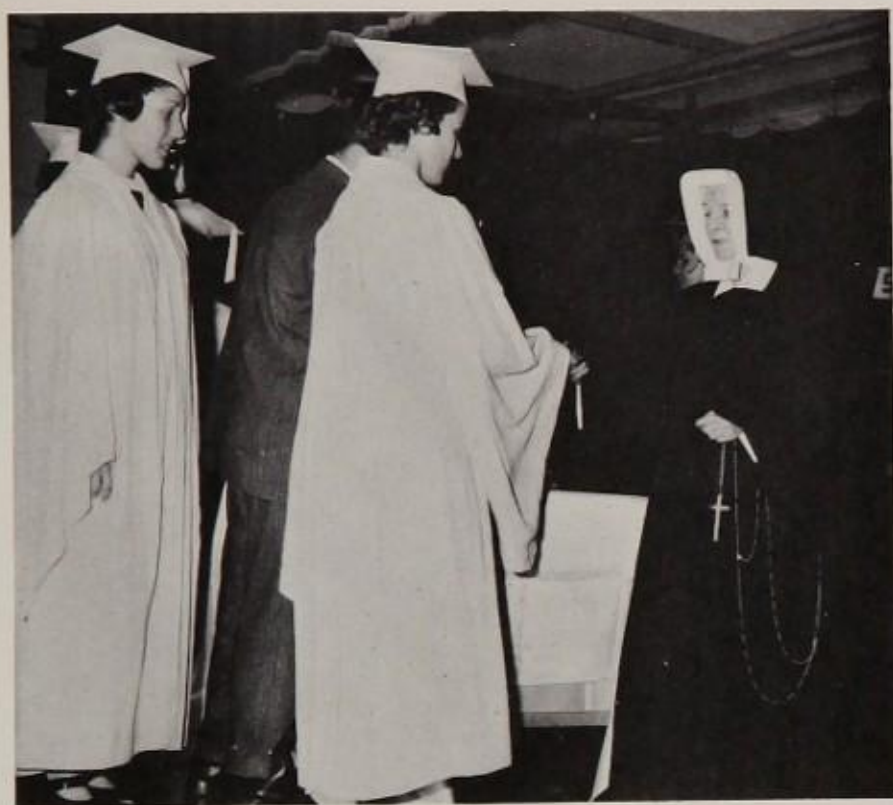

Body of Christ be then my saving guest.

Honor Society

Ten seniors were elected to the National Catholic Honor Society. In an impressive ceremony they were admitted into the society in the presence of parents, friends and fellow students of the senior class. Monsignor McWilliams who addressed the group, congratulated the honor students, and urged all other Michaelians to apply themselves seriously to study and thus derive the greatest possible benefit from the opportunities for learning that they enjoy.

"O hidden God, devoutly I adore Thee."

Monsignor addresses the students at the Communion Breakfast.

"May the body of Our Lord,
Jesus Christ, preserve your soul
unto life everlasting."

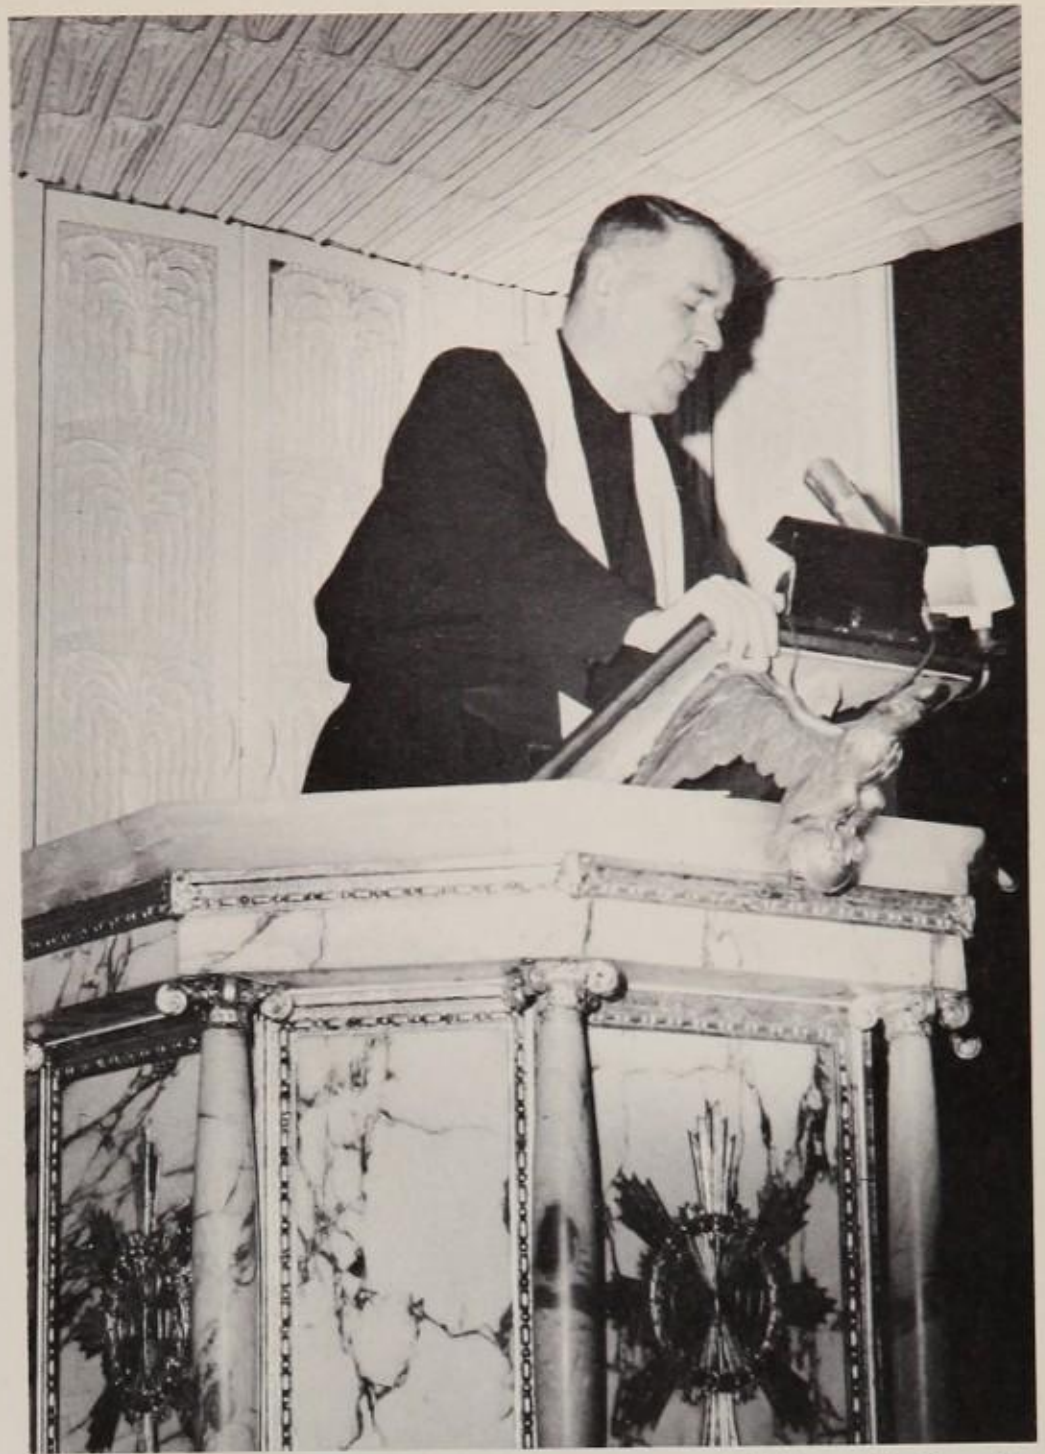

Retreat

The student's retreat preached by Father Magan S. J. was one of the most successful and inspiring that we have been privileged to make. In his retreat conference father stressed God's special providence over us in having chosen to create us out of all the possible beings he might have made.

No one listening to him could fail to have a greater sense of gratitude to God for this mark of predilection, and a stronger appreciation of the dignity of every other human being.

The highlight of our retreat was, of course, the inestimable privilege of daily mass and holy communion. In this sublime sacrifice we find our true destiny, and are given a foretaste and a pledge of eternal beatitude.

It is our earnest prayer that we may ever "walk worthy of the grace wherein we are called" and that the retreat we have been privileged to make, will, like the seed that fell on good ground, produce in us the hundred fold.

Father Magan encourages the students to enter whole-heartedly into the retreat.

"O Shepherd of the faithful, O Jesu gracious be."

"I could have danced all night"

Freshman Dance

The Freshman Dance is not only a very enjoyable affair, but it also serves the purpose of enabling the newcomers to become acquainted with the rest of the school. Seniors come down from their pedestals and chat and dance with the Freshmen, who up to this time have looked up at them with awe. The Juniors and Sophomores too, do their part to make the dance a social success.

The seniors proudly look at the rings they have just received.

Ring Ceremony

On January 29, the seniors received their school rings from Monsignor MacWilliams. This long awaited and eagerly anticipated event took place in the school auditorium and was witnessed by all the students.

We watched with joyful anticipation as Monsignor blessed the rings and we received them and wear them with pride. They are for us a symbol of our seniority, and remind us to live up to our obligation as inheritors of the Michaelan tradition.

The Seton Forensic Club is one of the most active and beneficial clubs in St. Michael's. This club emphasizes the importance of poise, self confidence and the art of expression. Under the able direction of its moderator, Sr. Mary Magdalen, it has brought honor to the school and distinction to its members.

We can truly say that the club record speaks for itself. Our debating teams have proved themselves to be the superior team against difficult competition on many occasions. The upcoming Freshmen show that St. Michael's can look forward to having a champion team in the years to come. Our school this year had the distinction of having two of its students, Jose Menendez (Original Oratory), and Maureen Caulfield (Extemporaneous Speaking) place first in the annual Seton Forensic Tourney. This qualifies these students for the finals in New York on May 26-28. Sandra Szalkiewitz has distinguished herself in several events. She placed first in National Catholic Oratorical Contest; third in the Seton Forensic Tourney and in a contest sponsored by Snyder High School. She is thereby qualified for the finals in New York.

We close this account with sincere thanks to Sister Magdalen for her hard work with, and her encouragement to the underclassmen.

Sister Maria Thais congratulates Maureen Caulfield and Jose Menendez as they show her the trophies they received for placing in the Extemporaneous and Original Oratory contests of the Seton Forensic League.

Student Council

The student council has an important role in maintaining the best traditions of Saint Michaels. Under the leadership of its president Ralph Pinto, it has established unprecedented fidelity to the aims as set down in the Student Government Constitution. Where necessary it has introduced new concepts for carrying out the Council's purpose which is "to coordinate student activities and encourage school spirit."

Our student council has been very successful in its many and diverse activities and has demonstrated that it is equipped and capable of promoting a fuller life for the students of Saint Michael.

Future Teachers

The Aquinas Club, which is a chartered member of the Future Teacher's Clubs of America, has had a fruitful and enjoyable year. Its purpose is to inform students of all aspects of a career in teaching and to encourage them to pursue such a career. It is to this goal that all activities and projects have been directed.

In October the club took a tour through the A. Harry Moore School for handicapped children, where students had an opportunity to see the special provisions made for education, and to talk to these youngsters and watch them at play.

The club received a nice write-up in the National F.T.A. newspaper for the work they initiated at St. Francis Hospital just before Christmas. Club members voluntarily gave up their study periods in order to conduct reading and story-telling in the children's ward.

Aristotle says that, "the fate of empires depends on the education of youth." The Future Teachers Club agrees. Left to Right: Maureen Connelly, Karen Perry, Marlene Brienkowski, Theresa Carola, Phyllis Hendrickson, Jean Lesperance, Kathleen Holt, Kathleen Bounocore, Michelena McElroy.

It looks as if we have some promising research students here. Patrician Glanzman, Jacqueline Leech, John Casas, Pat Boylan, Peter Brennan, John O'Connor, Alan Hughes, Richard Parker, Christine Piranowski, Joseph Nitto, Kenneth Collins.

Biology Club

The sudden desire for additional knowledge in the fascinating field of biology leads groups of enthusiastic students to the doors of the Biology Club for more facts on plants, animals, and man. A study of nature interests the students of St. Michael's because of the desire to understand more of the mysteries of nature which they have been introduced to in their studies and also because they recognize the presence of God in nature.

Red Cross Club

The Red Cross Club has established a fine record of playing the part of the good samaritan to many who are in need of a kind deed or thoughtful attention. Its members bring a ray of sunshine into hospital wards by making attractive favors to decorate the trays of the patients, on birthdays or special holidays. Their gifts of picture books, games, toys and puzzles bring a world of happiness to children in orphanages. Always they are on the look-out for those whom circumstances or illness have made dependent on the kindness of others.

Mission Club

The Mission Club will always attract a number of eager and zealous young people who sometimes dream of sailing across the ocean like other Francis Xaviers in search of souls.

The vitality of a nation is said to be measured by the sacrifice it is capable of making for the mission cause. Judged by this standard, the mission club is one of the most vital clubs in our school.

Sacrifices for the missions are not less real because they are made with a smile or are urged on by the students desire to make their class rank first in mission aid.

Every year St. Michael's is one of the honor schools in aid to the Propagation of the Faith and each year the per capita and total amount is higher than that of the previous year.

Spanish Club

In our day and age there is of course much stress upon international relations. It is therefore important for the students of America to understand the people of other lands. It is particularly desirable that they learn to know and appreciate our neighbors of Latin America. The Spanish Club is designed to give the students of St. Michael's a better understanding and appreciation of Hispanic culture. Reading Spanish classics, dramatizing Spanish plays, singing Spanish folk songs, and participating in Spanish dances are some of the activities that give enjoyment and deepen appreciation.

Making rosaries for the missions is one of the clubs projects. Saying their beads for the same cause is greatly meritorious. Standing: Marie Baier, Edward Szalkiewicz, Joseph Roerty, John Noonan. Kneeling: Camille Galano, Palmer Paone, Margaret Oras.

Service Club

The service club is one of the most active and generous clubs in our school. This group of girls performs a most necessary and important function. All school and parish affairs call on them for assistance and their help is always given graciously. The training and experience they are receiving now will surely render them perfect hostesses in the future. Their generous service is highly appreciated and we owe them a sincere vote of thanks.

Ready and willing at all times. Mary Schrodi, Rita Tezbinski, Sheila O'Neil, Teresa Eggers, Judith Schrodi, Joan Murray, Pat Dolan, Marietta Mylott.

"We will not charge anyone for window shopping" says Carol Mullen. Carol Herron, Carol Mullen, Jane Heirn, Eileen Casey, Mary Leuchten, Dorothy Dooley.

Making their debut at the Honor Society Program. John Pinte, Francis Princepe, Charles Dolan, James Murphy, James Belby, Edward Padfield.

Band

The Band is one of our newest school activities for it is also one of the most ambitious and enthusiastic. Springing up almost overnight it made a number of successful appearances in concert and dance halls.

The members meet periodically for practice but the identity of the "maestro extraordinary" who uses the baton so successfully is still a state secret. The hours of practice each week has been well rewarded by the reception which greets every appearance of the band. We salute the best spirit builders in the school!

The boy's tenor voices blended well with those of the girls.

Schola Cantorum

The Schola Cantorum, formed this year under the direction of Sister Catharine Eucharistia, presented a very striking Christmas pageant in December entitled "Love Does Such Things." Many parents and friends attended. Originally comprised of selected Freshmen, alone, who have regular scheduled singing classes, the group now also numbers several music lovers among the upper classmen, both boys and girls.

A close-up of the crib scene.

Thirty-five girls were chosen to participate in the Archdiocesan Demonstration Mass at St. Aloysius Church on May 18. And we shall not quickly forget the lovely singing of High Mass on the First Friday in June. The entire group participated. To hear their ninety voices, forty of them boys, raised in praise of the Sacred Heart of Jesus was a thrilling experience for the Faculty and the student congregation.

One of the beautifully impressive scenes in the Christmas pageant; presented by the Glee Club.

The Schola Cantorum under the direction of Sister Catherine Eucharistia sang hymns appropriate to the theme of the pageant.

Senior Prom

THE PROM

The long awaited prom finally materialized and the seniors had a wonderful time at Military Park Hotel, Newark.

The dance was held in Duffeld Hall on the main floor of the hotel which soon became for us an enchanted land of music and laughter.

Our photographer did not think we would have time to include pictures of the dance in our yearbook so we have only pictures of individual couples. However the memories of that never-to-be-forgotten evening are indelibly stamped in our minds.

Archangelo

Last year the Archangelo was centered around Our Lady who rescued the struggling staff from the results of their own inexperience. This year we have centered the theme of the book on God in Creation and we boldly ask her to bless our work again for the honor of her Divine Son. We hope that this yearbook will be a cherished possession of all Michaelians who will value it as a souvenir of happy school days and a constant reminder of their precious gift of faith. We wish to thank in particular Ralph Pinto, our art editor and generous helper in every way; our editor in chief, Karen Perry and her co-editors Eileen Beirne and Maureen Caulfield; Charles Dolan and Kerry Balk, lay-out editors; Charles O'Brien, sports editor, as well as their competent assistants.

The editor and her staff are deep in thought. Seated: Eileen Beirne, Karen Perry, Maureen Caulfield. Standing: Phyllis Hendrickson, Kathleen Burgess.

Sodality of

GIRLS' SODALITY

The newly organized girls' sodality is concentrating on the spiritual formation of its members. Realizing that the sodality is a way of life and not a social or charitable club the development of the interior life must be the first aim of the sodalist. Apostolic work which is good and should be encouraged, must be an overflow of the spiritual life, not a substitute for it.

The great means of attaining the end proposed is the sodality motto which calls for intense devotion to our Blessed Mother, "To Jesus through Mary."

The Girls' Sodality had a place of honor in the May procession.

Knights of Our Lady . . . her honor guard. Richard Martin, Neil Ryan, Donald Dolan, Kerry Balk, Ralph Pinto.

Our Lady

BOYS' SODALITY

The boys' sodality which has the same aim as all true sodalists, the perfect love of God and the neighbor, has a few veteran members who have been well schooled in the spiritual way and have begun to take an active part in the apostolate. They publish a monthly bulletin emphasizing devotion to Our Lady as the goal of all their endeavors.

The Boys' Sodality assemble on the Church steps.

The May procession led by acolytes and boy sodalists makes its way round Hamilton Park.

May Crowning

We wonder if we may possibly have some future members of the American hierarchy here.

Few things in our school life are so memorable as the annual May procession and coronation of the Blessed Mother.

The impressive procession consisting of the entire student body, passes through Hamilton Park and then continues on to St. Michael's Church where the actual crowning takes place.

Kneeling before the statue of the Blessed Mother, enshrined in the beautiful main altar, the students lift up heart and voice to honor their mother and their queen. The joy that comes from such a dedication is one of the nearest things to the joy of heaven that we can know on earth.

"In the glad morning of their youth" these little ones led by Marie Giallorenzo and Marlene Brinkofski pay tribute to their Queen.

A pause before joining the procession.

The culminating act of the day — Joan Hammill places a crown on the statue of Our Lady.

S P O R T S

"You know well enough that when men run in a race, the race is for all, but the prize for one; run then for the victory. Every athlete must keep his appetites under control; and he does it to win a crown that fades, whereas ours is imperishable."

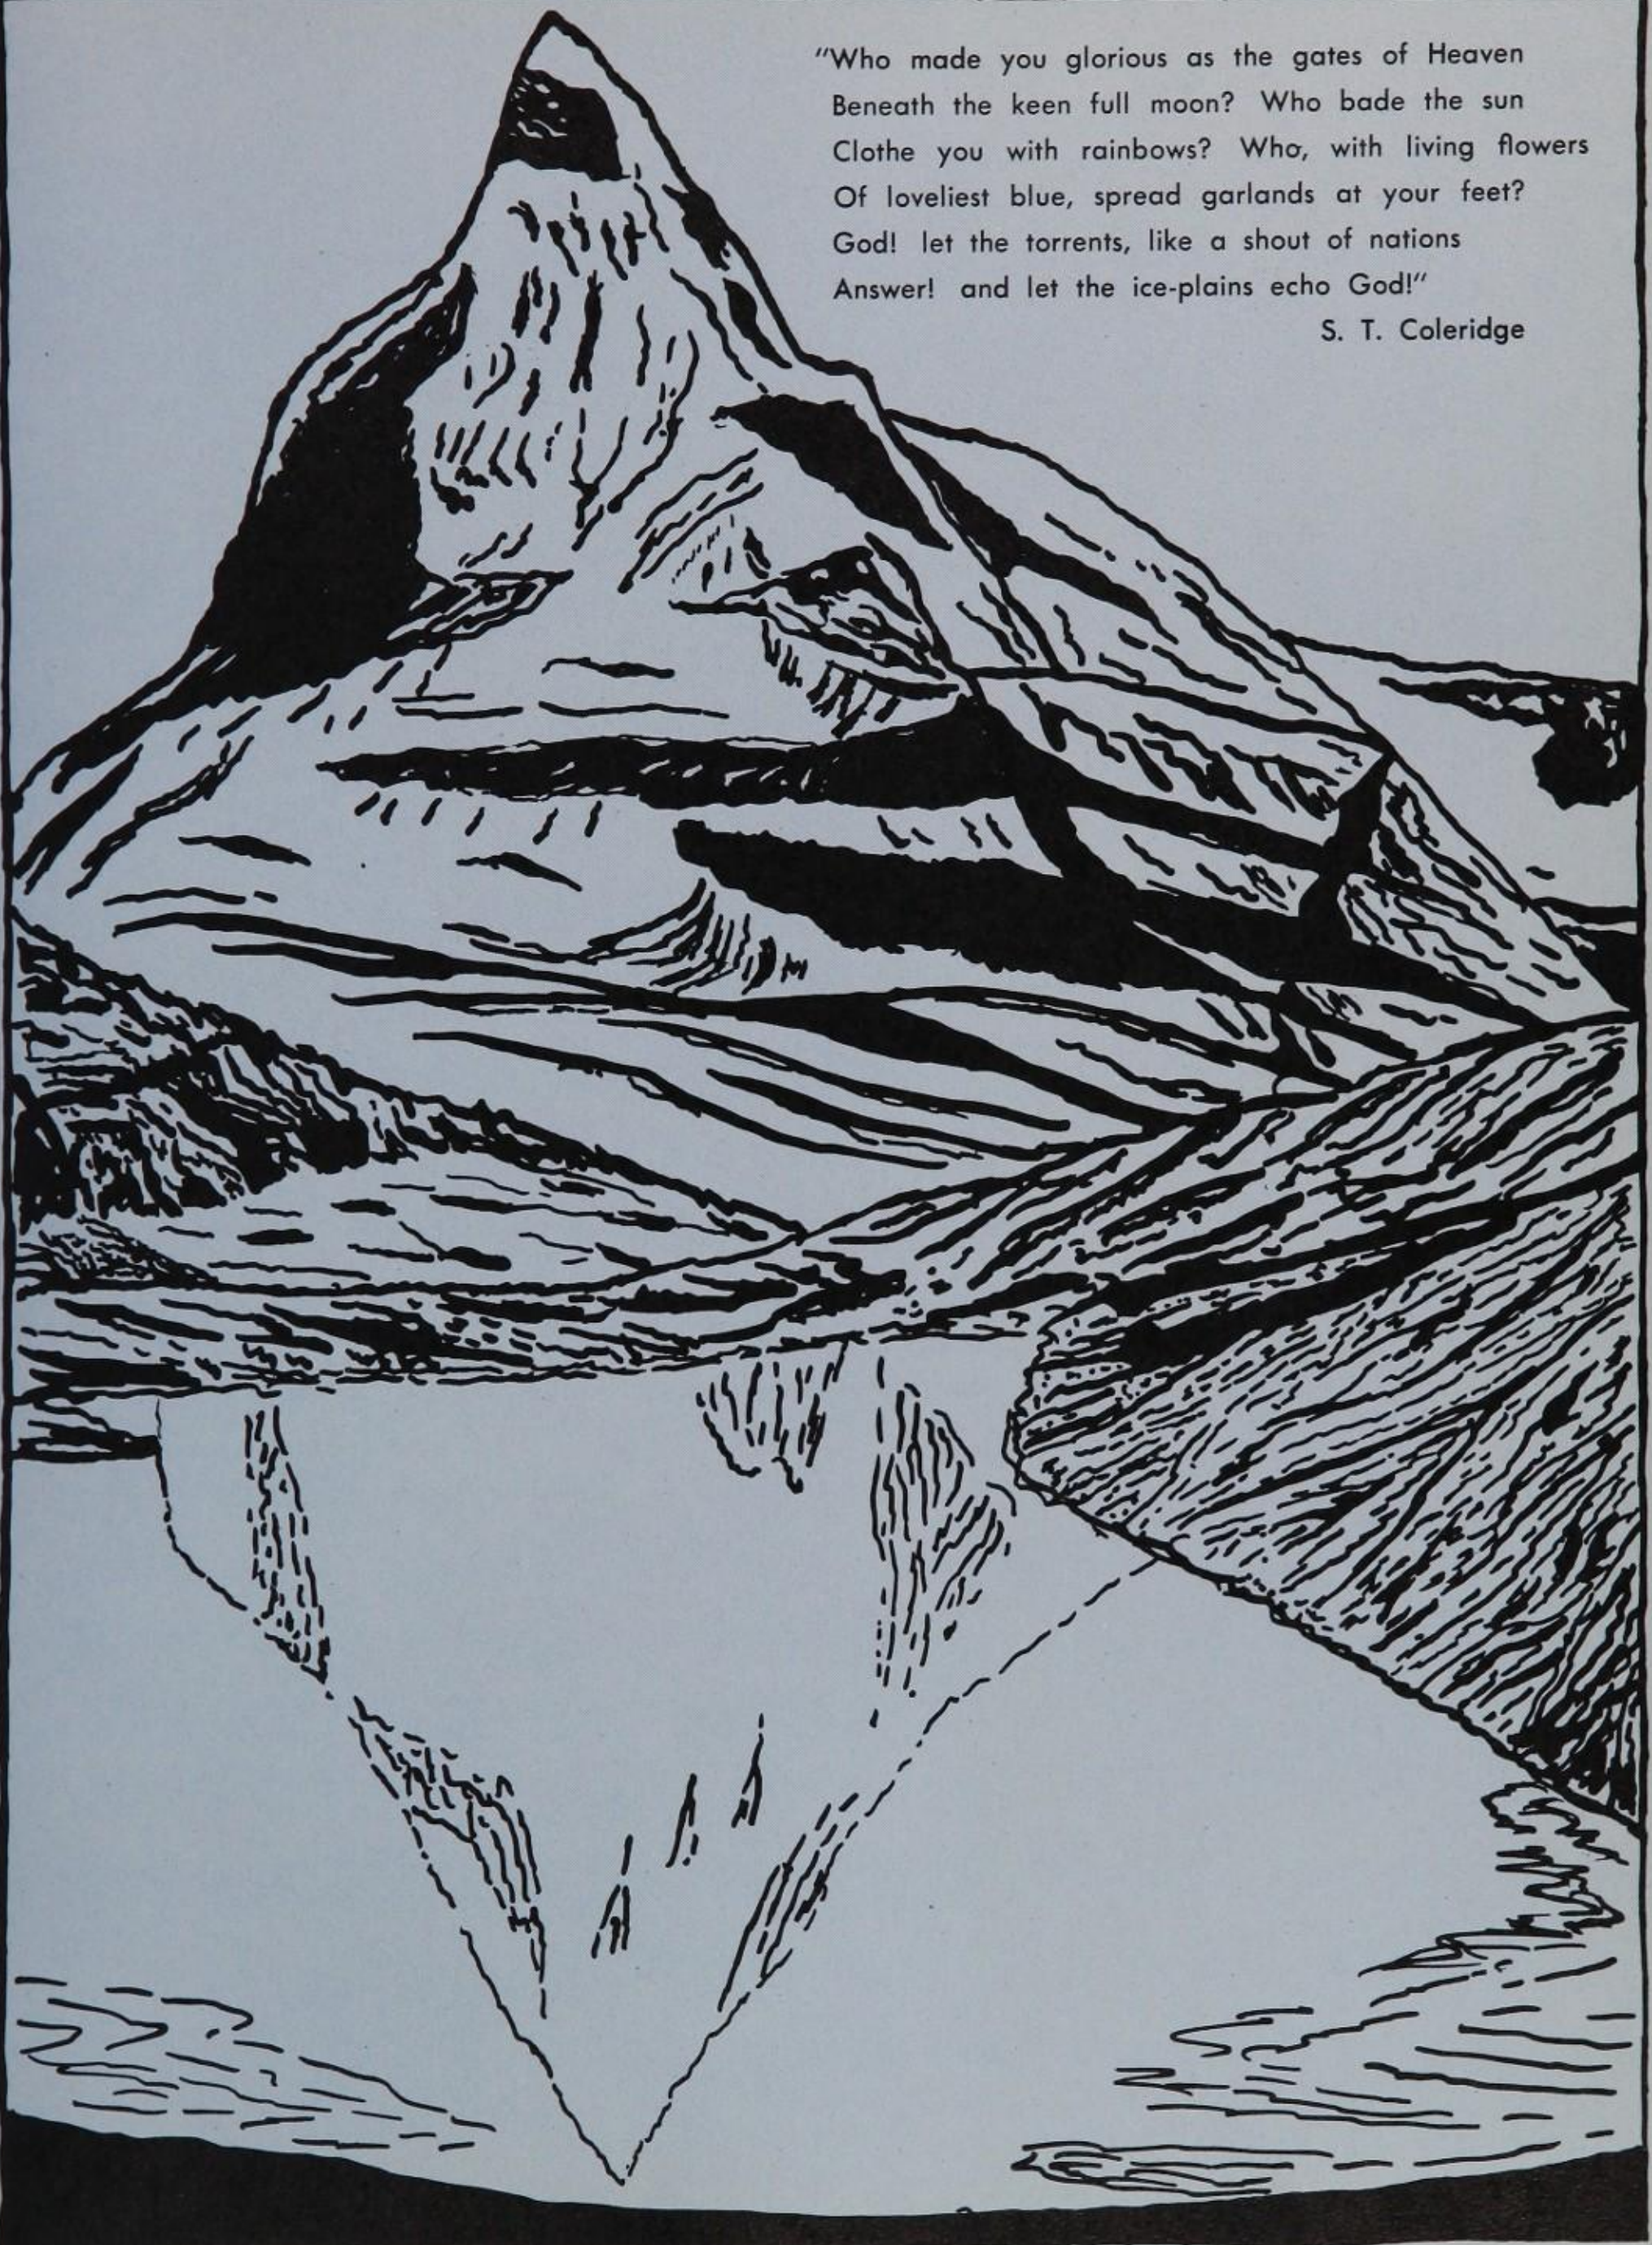

In the quotation above, St. Paul compares himself to an athlete who is going to enter a very important race or a boxer who is in training for a fight. Though it would have been an anachronism if he had mentioned them, yet his epistle is equally applicable to basketball and baseball players. We include mountaineers too, as a concession to our artist who gave us a picture of the Matterhorn.

St. Paul was writing from Corinth where all the big athletic events of his day took place and he used the kind of comparison that his readers would understand.

Just as athletes of his day and ours have had to deny themselves many pleasures and indulgences in order to keep fit. So we who are engaged in a more deadly spiritual combat must bring our inclinations and desires under control in order to be victorious against our spiritual enemies.

"Who made you glorious as the gates of Heaven
Beneath the keen full moon? Who bade the sun
Clothe you with rainbows? Who, with living flowers
Of loveliest blue, spread garlands at your feet?
God! let the torrents, like a shout of nations
Answer! and let the ice-plains echo God!"

Basketball

Led by the coaching of our newly appointed Athletic Director, Jim Walling, and by All Catholic State Champion, Dennis McGovern, our basketball team for the first time in its history made the final round of the North New Jersey Basketball Tournament. One of the highlights which led up to this event was our game with Snyder in which we carried the City Champs into overtime, and then ironically lost by only one basket.

Sparked by the sharp shooting of Mike DePalma, clutch scoring of Fred Lipinski and Michael Yanuzzi and the rebounding of Jim Murray our players were able to hold their lead against the best teams in the state.

Our reserves included Bill Jodzio, Mike Dolan, Brendan Keegal, George Connors, and John Mulligan.

They came, they saw, we conquered.

Time out — prayer before action.

Track

Despite a lack of depth of fine runners, St. Michael's was able to hold its own against many large schools in the East.

Ernesto Tolentino, who ran in the shadow of Al Adams last year, finally came into his own this year in the half-mile. Ernie cut off 1.2 seconds from Al's city half-mile record at the city meet.

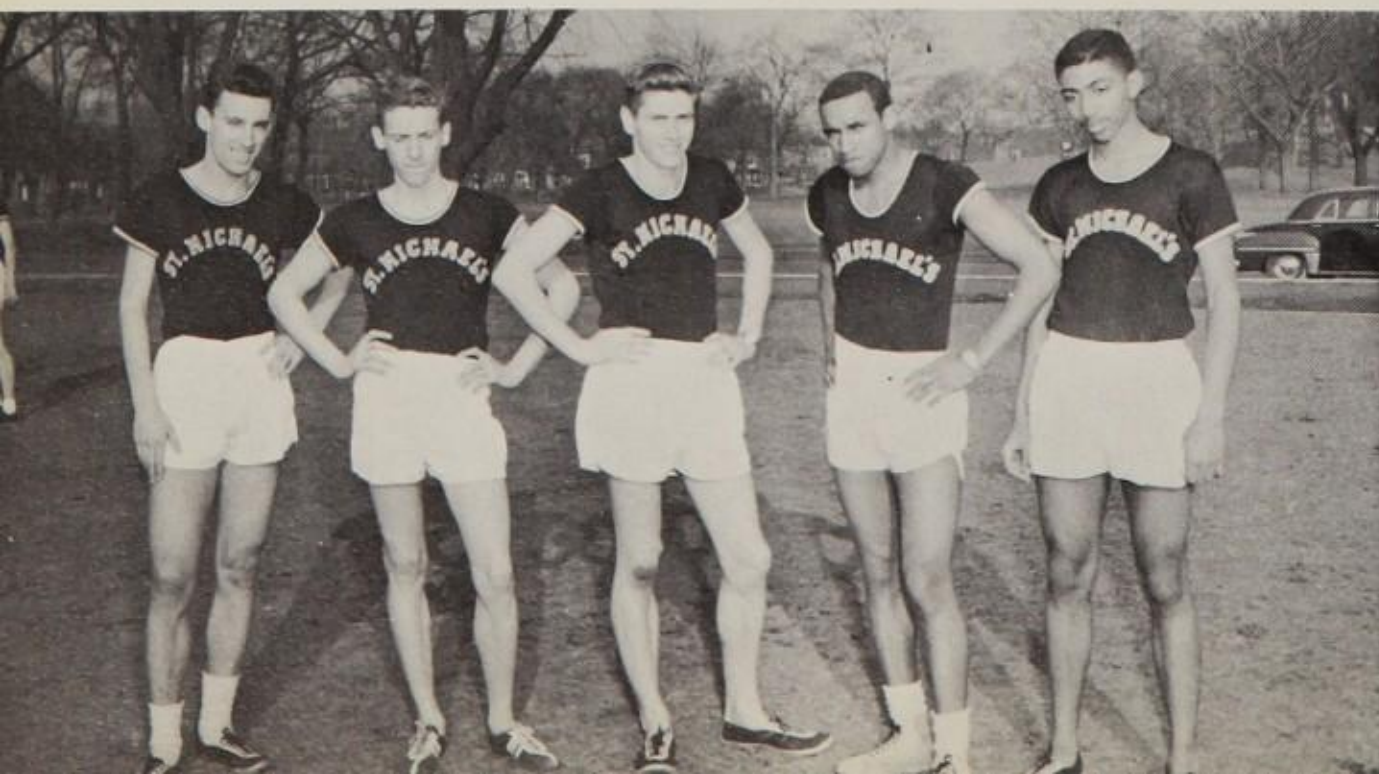

Al Adams, who did not have quite such a successful season as was predicted for him last year, nevertheless managed to anchor a number of relay wins and individual wins in the mile. Al also made the All-Star Indoor Team.

Seniors: Charlie O'Brien, Ken Anderson, and Frank Jaworisak came through with some fine running performances. Juniors: Pete Cardiello, and Bill Garrett have also come through with consistently outstanding running for the Michaelian team. Yes, the future looks bright with these two promising runners to go along with Richard Harvey and Allan Hughes.

Thanks to outstanding coaching and inspiration of our two coaches, Mr. Finn and Mr. Gaughran, we hope our track team will continue to be an outstanding success in the future.

Al Adams Co-captain made the All-Star Indoor Team.

Ernesto Tolentino, Co-captain, established a record in the half-mile at the city meet.

Baseball

If dogged perseverance and enthusiasm can make up for lack of experience then we ought to have a good season. However we must be realistic. We have only one senior, Louis DeMarco, on the team, and we are up against some very stiff competition.

However the future looks bright with Richard Gillio, junior, and a whole crop of promising sophomores and freshmen. Under Mr. Driemuller's guidance and rebuilding program, the teams of the next two years should achieve outstanding success.

Girls Basketball

Two of the most outstanding girl basketball players in Hudson County led Saint Michael's Basketball team to an impressive record of 15 wins and 2 losses.

Alternating between guard and forward, Pat Devlin, a senior, and Roseann Mazzeo, a junior, were still able to become the first two girl basketball players to top 1,000 points in the game.

The only two losses were to rival team, St. Mary's, Jersey City, but both games were lost by close scores. Our coach, Mrs. Reddington, was able to change the positions of the leading players at key points in the game.

Not to be overlooked in any estimate of our success is the excellent playing of Lorraine McKenna as a guard.

We hope that Mrs. Reddington and her girls will have another very successful season next year. Judging by the promising group of freshmen and sophomores, and with Roseann Mazzeo as a tower of strength, we should do equally well or better.

Doris takes a break on the court.

Patricia Devlin and Roseann Mazzeo have made over 1,000 points in their basketball career. It is quite a distinction for a boy to make a thousand, but for a girl it is even more remarkable. These two players are the first girls in Hudson County ever to achieve this honor.

Pat reached the 1,000 point mark in a game with Holy Rosary on February 2, and Roseann accomplished the same feat a month later in the game with Sacred Heart. What made this second success even more unusual was the fact that Roseann is still a junior, with an opportunity to greatly add to the total during the next season.

Roseann Mazzeo makes a jump shot.

What! Another jump off.

Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders are very spirited and lively. They know how to sustain the fighting spirit of a team. Often when our players were in a tight spot and tempted to discouragement, we have seen them spurred on to victory by the vigorous cheers of the girls on the court.

Often they do not receive their full measure of appreciation when the players cover themselves with glory. Therefore, we wish now to express our sincere thanks for the great morale builders of the school.

In Appreciation

To all who have made the 1960 Archangelo a reality, we extend our gratitude and appreciation. We are particularly grateful to:

Our pastor, Monsignor Leroy McWilliams and his zealous assistants for their encouragement and support.

Sister Maria Thais and the members of her faculty for their cooperation.

Mr. Lawshe and Mr. Pruett of Progress Associates for their assistance and technical help.

Mr. Davis of Davis Studio for his kindness and patience with our photographic requests and to Mr. Christie for his photographic coverage.

Sister Anthony Marie, our moderator and to Sister Mary Magdalen, our financial director, for their constant help and suggestions.

Our advertisers, patrons, and boosters for supporting our enterprises.
